EDITORIAL TRAINEES

Applications are invited from post-graduate students interested in labour and social history to join the Editorial Working Group of Labour History as Editorial Trainees.

We expect to appoint up to three trainees, initially for one year and renewable for up to three years, beginning in March 2012.

As editorial work on the journal is voluntary, trainees would not be paid. They would, however, participate fully in the deliberations of the Editorial Working Group and be invited to attend meetings of the Editorial Board. They might be asked to accept special responsibility as a group to work on a particular project for the journal, eg assisting the Review Editors.

The trainees would need to be based in/near Sydney and attend regular meetings of the Editorial Working Group.

Applications should be in the form of a letter accompanying a brief curriculum vitae, with the names of two referees, one of whom should be your supervisor.

Closing Date: Monday 20th February, 2012.

Applications should be sent to: John Shields, Editor, Labour History, Work & Organisational Studies, Institute Building H03, University of Sydney NSW 2006, from whom further information may be obtained.
